IN FOND MEMORIAM. Author of Lane guides and literate writer on diverse subjects, including social and political criticism and satire; 1986 recipient of ABA Ludlow Griscom award; generous friend to birders everywhere; energetic and kindly tour leader, famous for gourmet picnics; delightful raconteur; courageous Interferon guinea pig in a five-year struggle with cancer; details of his private life as elusive as the birds he led us to; and a very gentle man. JIM LANE died in the VA Hospital at Loma Linda, California, March 24, 1987.
