

CONTENTS

STATUS OF COMMON LOONS ON SQUAM LAKE IN 1999 Amy Wright and Kate Taylor	148
WINTER POPULATION TRENDS OF SIX SPECIES OF SPARROWS Thomas R. Hamilton	154
THE CHANGE IN THE NUMBERS OF WINTERING HOODED MERGANSERS (LOPHODYTES CUCULLATUS) IN NEW ENGLAND Steve Davis	164
BIRDING THE MYLES STANDISH STATE FOREST IN PLYMOUTH Glenn d'Entremont	171
BIRDS AND BUILDING A BACKYARD POND Alan E. Strauss	177
YOUNG BIRDERS Big Day Birding: A Change of Pace Barrett Lawson	180
POCKET PLACES Steele Farm, Boxborough Judy Bartos	183
HOT BIRDS	184
YARD BIRDS	185
FIELD NOTES An Eastern Bluebird Nest with a Twist Dan Furbish Playing Tag with Osprey Tod McLeish Osprey in Revere Geoffrey Wood	189 192 194
ABOUT BOOKS: Looking Back Paul M. Roberts	195
BIRD SIGHTINGS: Jan./Feb. 2000 Summary	199
ABOUT THE COVER: Piping Plover William E. Davis, Jr.	215
ABOUT THE COVER ARTIST: Rob Gough	216
AT A GLANCE Wayne R. Petersen	217
Cover Illustration: Piping Plover by Rob Gough

Note from the President: From time to time birders tell us about local spots that have brought them pleasure. These places may not merit entire articles, but are worth sharing with other birders who may live nearby or be visiting the area. We invite you to contribute to our new, occasional series and share your "Pocket Place" with our readers (see page 183).

M.W.R.

