

TABLE OF CONTENTS

WATER BIRDS AND SHOREBIRDS OF BOSTON HARBOR: TWENTY-SEVEN OVERLOOKS.....	Soheil Zendehe and Leif J. Robinson	5
THE FALL MIGRATION: AUGUST-NOVEMBER, 1979.....		18

MAINE AUDUBON NEWFOUNDLAND TOUR

The Maine Audubon Society is sponsoring a trip to Newfoundland in July, 1980.

Newfoundland is an easy flight to another world - of friendly people, fascinating geology and history born of the sea. It is an island sheltering inland birds such as the Willow Ptarmigan and spectacular sea bird colonies including Gannets, Common and Thick-billed Murres, Razorbills, Manx Shearwaters, guillemots, Kittiwakes and puffins, to name a few. Trip leader Peter Vickery has had extensive birding experience both on his own and as a leader for various environmental organizations.

Some of the areas to be highlighted on this 13-day circuit include Gros Morne National Park, Terra Nova National Park, the bird sanctuaries at Cape St. Mary's and Witless Bay, and the historic seaport city of St. John's.

For a more-detailed itinerary please write today:

Field Trips
Maine Audubon Society
118 Old Route One
Falmouth, Maine 04105

Peregrine Falcon photographed by Ted Raymond in Boston