William Pepper, 20 E. Bells Mill Road, Philadelphia 18, Pa., writes: "The following relates to a Common Tern banded near Margate, New Jersey, as a nestling on June 22, 1941, by my father. (Dr. William Pepper, Sr., late Dean of the Univ. of Penna. Medical School--Ed.)

"On September 19, 1950, I received a regular form letter stating that on Sept. 3, 1950, Mr. R. C. English, 819 Second St., Northfield, N.J., wrote that 'I had a strike and lost the fish but on my hook was a tag 40-354374'. This was in the vicinity of Lakes Bay, Atlantic Co., N.J.

"Could a bander call this a nine-year recovery, or had a fish an aluminum-capped tooth? It's a good story even if a little old in telling."

Yes, Bill, we agree it's a good story!
