

WHO COLOR-MARKED A RED-TAILED HAWK?

Donald S. Heintzelman writes, "On October 22, 1966, at Bake Oven Knob, Lehigh County, Pa., I observed a color-marked Red-tailed Hawk passing low overhead. The bird, which was photographed in color, had a red or pink dye on the ventral (lower) surface of each wing and was obviously an experimental bird. I have checked with the Banding Office concerning records of persons color-marking this species but they have no information available."

The person who marked this bird - or anyone who knows who may have marked it and/or where and when it was marked - is asked to contact Mr. Heintzelman at the Natural Science Section, Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, Box 232, Harrisburg, Pa. 17108.

CORRECTIONS

We deeply regret that the omission of two letters while typing Mr. G. Hapgood Parks' article on Evening Grosbeaks in the last issue (EBBA News, Vol. 30, No. 1) distorted the author's meaning - on page 9, at the end of the paragraph preceding the subtitle "Discussion", the last line should read "have been unable to convince ourselves..."

The November-December 1966 issue (Vol. 29, No. 6) contains a list of EBBA committees on page 267 which includes Mr. Robert Pyle as a member of the memorial award committee. This is an error: the members of this committee are: Albert Schnitzer (Chairman), Dr. Jeff Swinebroad, and Dr. Charles Blake.
