

WARBLER RECOVERIES OF ISLAND BEACH BANDED BIRDS

Band No.	Date Banded	Date Recovered	Species	Where Recovered	Present Status
63-66450	08-31-61	05-18-63	Yellow-rumped Warbler	Springfield, Ma.	Trapped & Released
106-63145	08-19-63	06-11-64	Magnolia Warbler	St. John, N.B. Canada	Caught by cat
72-85431	10-14-65	06-17-66	Yellow-rumped Warbler	St. Johnsbury, Vt.	Caught in bldg. due to injury
73-11304	10-23-66	05-30-67	Yellow-rumped Warbler	Rutherford, N.J.	Dead with band removed
112-44727	09-03-66	05-00-67	American Redstart	Jamaica, W.I.	Unknown
114-95393	10-20-67	10-21-67	Nashville Warbler	Mantoloking, N.J.*	Dead due to striking stationary object

* 12-13 miles North of Island Beach

--Mabel Warburton, 44 Hilltop Road, Yardley, Penna. 19067

ITEM OF INTEREST

In the breeding season of 1971, two bird houses were occupied by House Wren. These nesting houses were located about 80 feet apart. Between them was a resting pole that was almost constantly occupied by a singing male--who attended to both breeding houses! Oh the bigamous ways of some birds! I never did identify this male, but the band numbers of the three were: 125-91256, 125-91260, 125-91398.

--Reported by Dr. J. D. Copeland, Erskine College, Due West, S. C.

As a direct result of the production delays and your editor's wish to resign some months ago, communications and letters to the editor seem to have stopped completely. Let me assure you that I am still editor and that thanks to our Officers and Councilors, I have decided to remain editor. Although we still have papers pending publication, the supply is dwindling and, due to a further lack of informal material, issues are not easily assembled. EBBA NEWS needs your continued support . . . and it needs it as soon as possible.

F. S. SHAEFFER, Editor
