THE AUK

A Quarterly Journal of Ornithology.

J. A. ALLEN, Editor.

FRANK M. CHAPMAN, Assoc. Editor.

As the official organ of the Union 'The Auk' is the leading ornithological publication of this country. Each number contains about 100 pages of text, a handsomely colored plate, and other illustrations. The principal articles are by recognized authorities and are of both a scientific and popular nature. The department of 'General Notes' gives brief records of new and interesting facts concerning birds contributed by observers from throughout the United States and Canada. Recent ornithological literature is reviewed at length and news items are commented upon by the editors. 'The Auk' is thus indispensable to those who would be kept informed of the advance made in the study of birds either in the museum or in the field.

PRICE OF CURRENT VOLUME, $3.00.
SINGLE NUMBERS, 75 cts.

Check-List of North American Birds.

SECOND EDITION, THOROUGHLY REVISED.

The second edition of the A. O. U. Check-List was published in December, 1895. The Code of Nomenclature is omitted, but in other respects the matter is the same as that of the first edition, except that it has been most carefully revised, and the recent changes in nomenclature, and the species and subspecies described since 1886 are included. The ranges of the birds have also been largely rewritten and the subject of geographical distribution brought down to date.

8vo., CLOTH. PRICE, $2.00.

The Code of Nomenclature Adopted by the American Ornithologists' Union.

This is the report of a Committee of the Union on Nomenclature. It was published originally in the first edition of the Check-List and since issued separately.

8vo., PAPER, 1891. PRICE, 50 cts.

COLLECTION OF EGGS FOR SALE.

I now offer for sale my entire collection of North American Birds' Eggs.

This collection is the work of many years. It has been carefully made, is thoroughly scientific, and contains about 15,000 specimens representing 521 species and subspecies.

I will take one-third its market value, using standard catalogues of North American birds' eggs as a basis for determining the price.

This offer creates a rare opportunity for a party to purchase at once a collection which, under ordinary circumstances, it would take years to form.

A few of the rarities contained in this collection are: Giant Fulmar, Fork-tailed and Ashy Petrels, Mottled Duck, American Scoter, Black-bellied and Fulvous Tree Ducks, Great White Heron, Louisiana Clapper Rail, Black Rail, Red Phalarope, Purple Sandpiper, Mexican Jacana, Reinhardt's Ptarmigan, Attwater's Prairie Hen, Mexican and Florida Wild Turkeys, Passenger Pigeon, Swallow-Tailed and Everglade Kites, Harlan's Hawk, Prairie Falcon, Aplomado Falcon, Ferruginous Pigmy Owl, Ivory-billed Woodpecker, Merrill's Parauque, Vaux's Swift, Derby, Giraud's, Vermillion, and Ridgway's Flycatchers, Audubon's Oriole, Baird's Sparrow, Texan and Dusky Seaside Sparrows, Hutton's Vireo, Virginia's, Sennett's, and Townsend's Warblers, Sprague's Pipit, etc.

I have in addition to this collection, a number of sets of southern birds' eggs for sale separately.
