

Partridge have become established in the region surrounding Vernon, Okanagan Valley, the number of wintering Goshawks has increased perceptibly even when allowance is made for the periodic southern migration of the species following the "rabbit plague." Many local sportsmen make a practice of hunting Goshawks and to secure the bounty, which is paid by local subscription, the birds killed are brought to the City. Thus has occurred an opportunity of examining some 40 adult and 20 immature specimens during the past two winters. Some of the adults, irrespective of the apparently progressive lightening of striatulation on the ventral surface due to age, represent the dark-colored western race to which the name striatulus usually is applied; others are as pale as typical atricapillus from eastern Canada. To this latter race all immature birds examined have been referred.—J. A. MUNRO, Okanagan Landing, B. C.

An old Record of the Carolina Paroquet.—During the last days of the year 1838 and the first ones of 1839 four sailing vessels from Bremen, Germany, discharged their human cargo at New Orleans. The more than 700 immigrants were all members of one party of Lutherans from Saxony in Germany. They were not a needy, impoverished company, but consisted largely of professional people, well-to-do burghers, agriculturists, and merchants; also several lawyers, doctors, and apothecaries were among their number. They chartered a large Mississippi steamer, the Selma, to take them to St. Louis. The following quotation is from the diary kept on the trip by Dr. Vehse, a lawyer. "On Thursday we commenced the up-river trip. Nothing untoward occurred until we reached the bar at the mouth of the Ohio. Here the steamer was unable to make headway on account of the low stage of the river. The passengers went on shore and made small excursions into the forest close by. Near the shore was situated a large and beautiful farm. We made the acquaintance of the proprietor, who gave us one of his blacks as a guide. Some of us hunted a small species of Parrot, of which many were killed. They made a savory dish." (Quoted from Graebner, Lutheran Pioneers, page 14, Concordia Publishing House, St. Louis, Mo.) This may have been either on the Missouri side or in Kentucky, hardly in Illinois. The larger part of this company finally bought 4440 acres of land for themselves in Perry County, Missouri, not very far from the scene of their unexpected Parrot hunt.—G. EIFRIG, River Forest, Ill.

Crotophaga ani in Pinellas County, Florida.—On February 24, 1929, at sunset, I discovered in a low growth of mangrove on the bay side of Long Key near the town of Pass-a-Grille, Florida, a single Ani which was collected the following morning not far from its roosting place. The bird proved to be an adult male in good flesh but rather worn plumage with nearly half the rectrices missing. Its stomach was empty save for one large grasshopper recently swallowed. It measured: length, 364 mm., wing, 154 mm., tail, 188 mm. The specimen is now in the Museum of Zoology of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.
