

HAWK MOUNTAIN in eastern Pennsylvania, described by Earl L. Poole in 'The Auk' for January, 1934, was leased last autumn by Mrs. C. N. Edge and all shooting of Hawks stopped. Mrs. Edge has an option for the purchase of the mountain with the idea of converting it into a permanent wild life sanctuary. It is to be hoped that the necessary funds may be secured for this purpose and that title to the property may be given to some permanent incorporated body which will preserve it in perpetuity and forever stop the shameful slaughter of Hawks which has been going on there for many years.

AT THE LAST meeting of the A. O. U. the council discussed means of increasing the content of 'The Auk' without adding to the cost of publication, and the enlargement of the type-bed was suggested as a means to this end. Consequently with this issue the size has been increased nearly half an inch in width and five eighths of an inch in length which, with the same pagination per number, will enable us to add nearly twenty pages of matter without appreciable additional expense or conversely will accommodate the same amount of matter in twenty pages less. The reduction of the margin by so small an amount will, we feel sure, not impare the appearance of the journal nor interfere with its binding.

THE FIFTY-THIRD stated meeting of the American Ornithologists' Union will be held at Toronto, Canada in the third week of October 1935. The Secretary of the local Committee is Mr. L. L. Snyder, Royal Ontario Museum, 100 Queen's Park, Toronto, Canada.
