TO THE MEMBERS OF THE COOPER ORNITHOLOGICAL CLUB:

We need your help. Because of the decrease of the Club income, through the resignation or death of members, lower interest rates on investments, increase in taxes and other expenses, the CONDOR for 1935 cost more than the income from dues, subscriptions, and interest on the Endowment Fund. Unless the income can be materially increased it will be necessary to reduce the size of Volume 38. Here are some ways that you can help to make this unnecessary:

1. If you have let your dues get behind, pay up in full as soon as possible.
2. Ask one or more of your friends who are interested in birds to join the Club.
3. Fill up the gaps in your Condor and Avifauna files. As a member of the Club you are entitled to a discount of 25 per cent on back numbers of the Condor, and 50 per cent on Avifaunas.
4. Become a Life Member. By paying $75.00 you become a Life Member and pay no more dues. This money is put in the Endowment Fund and only the interest is used for current expenses.
5. Help us to economize by notifying us promptly of permanent changes of address; by not changing your address for temporary absences from home (the Post Office will forward your magazine for a few cents); by addressing all communications to the proper officers of the Club as listed on the inside front cover of the CONDOR; by making checks and money orders payable to the Cooper Ornithological Club, Inc.; and by having Postal Money Orders drawn on Buena Park, California.
