FOR EXCHANGE—I shall be glad to receive lists from those having strictly first-class bird skins for exchange. Only clean, well prepared and properly labeled material desired. I can also offer, for sale or exchange, a number of fine mammal study skins.—ALEX WALKER, Tillamook, Oregon.

A MESSAGE TO AMATEUR ORNITHOLOGISTS—Have you ever wondered about the possibility of having a purely amateur bird magazine, a monthly bulletin written and published by amateur bird students? Through the medium of "Field Ornithology" it is hoped that bird students throughout the country may be united in one body, dedicated to the conservation of wildlife in America. We believe that this magazine will not only aid in these respects but will be also valuable to the amateur, especially the isolated student, by his profiting from the knowledge and experience of his fellow ornithologists. Subscription price fifty cents a year. Send all subscriptions in cash, check or money order to William C. Legg, publisher, Mount Lookout, West Virginia. Sample copies may be had by writing to either this or the following address.—MILTON SEIBERT, 4649 Redding St., Oakland, California.
