FOR SALE—Many issues and complete volumes of the Western Bird-Banding Association's News from Bird-banders are available at reasonable prices. The News has completed thirty years as a quarterly publication and has an important place in ornithological literature. Write for list of issues available and prices.—EMERSON A. STONER, President, W.B.B.A., 285 East L St., Benicia, Calif.

WANTED—Continuously wanted and exchanged: Embryos, young in pipped shells, or just-hatched specimens, alcohol preserved, of any identified avian species.—DAVID K. WETHERBEE, Dept. Biology, Fisk University, Nashville 8, Tenn.

FREE PRICE-LIST—A new list of sales publications has been compiled by the New York State Museum and is available without charge on request direct to the museum at Albany 1, N. Y. The revised list includes a considerable number of zoological bulletins, circulars, handbooks, etc., that were formerly considered out of print and have been available only through dealers. The stock of some of these items is small; in such cases, preference will be given to orders from libraries of universities, foundations and other organizations.—VICTOR H. CAHALANE, New York State Museum, University of New York, Albany 1, N. Y.

FREE CHRISTMAS OFFER TO BIRDERS!—With each new binocular sold before Christmas this year, we offer a rainguard and three chrome initials—all gifts on trial until 10 days after Christmas. Free Service: All glasses we sell are checked in our shop and guaranteed adjusted to U. S. Government specifications. Six models we adapt specially for ornithologists. Free to C.O.S. members: Our articles reprinted from Audubon Magazine—regularly 10¢. Also, binocular repairs that often make a glass better than new; cleaning and aligning done in 5 days.—THE REICHERTS, Mirakel Repair Co., 14 W. First St., Mount Vernon 15, N. Y.
