

found sick at La Bahia de Los Angeles, Baja, California, August 4, 1940.

PURPLE FINCH (Carpodacus purpureus)

C160589, banded at Sharon, Mass., on August 8, 1934, by Wm. A. Taylor, was trapped and released at the same locality, July 1, 1942.

41-50961, banded at Amherst, Mass., on March 16, 1941, by Mrs. F. M. Cutler was shot at Makati, N. Dak., May 3, 1942.

JUNCO (Junco hyemalis)

37-52282, banded at Tower City, N. Dak., on April 10, 1939, by Edgar S. Preston, was killed by a car at Bee Branch, Ark., December 20, 1941.

41-168106, banded at Jackson, Mich., on April 1, 1942, by W. Preston, was found dead at Cannington, Ont., April 20, 1942.

TREE SPARROW (Spizella arborea)

L54118, banded at Zion, Ill., on April 3, 1934, by C. E. Holcombe, was found dead at Norway House, Man., October 20, 1941.

WHITE-CROWNED SPARROW (Zonotrichia leucophrys)

39-113325, banded at Memphis, Tenn., on November 12, 1940, by B. B. Coffey Jr., was shot near Marble Falls, Texas, December 27, 1940.

WHITE-THROATED SPARROW (Zonotrichia albicollis)

C169138, banded at Wyncote, Pa., on November 20, 1933, by Wm. Pepper, Jr., was trapped and released at the same locality, November 5, 1941.

38-184691, banded at Milledgeville, Ga., on February 8, 1942, by Mrs. Mabel T. Rogers, was trapped and released at West Chester, Pa., April 18, 1942, by cooperator A. L. Baily, III.

40-117413, banded at Clemson, S. C., by R. E. Ware, on January 8, 1940, was trapped and released at Oakes, N. Dak., May 11, 1941, by cooperator Mrs. J. F. Nichols.

140-2026, banded at Platteville, Wis., on October 15, 1940, by Carmen Beining, was trapped and released twice at Blacksburg, Va., November 7, 1940 by, cooperator C. O. Handley.

41-136952, banded at Chicago, Ill., on September 29, 1941, by Seymour Levy, was captured at Ponce de Leon, Fla., April 30, 1942.

41-162014, banded at the Sand Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Columbia, S. Dak. on May 7, 1942, by Watson E. Beed, was found at Dundurn, Sask., May 13, 1942.

SONG SPARROW (Melospiza melodia)

36-64900, banded at Randolph, Mass., on July 23, 1937, by Mrs. Ruth J. Wright, was found at Hants Harbor, Trinity Bay, Nfld., August 18, 1941. There are very few definite records for the Song Sparrow in Newfoundland.

U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D. C.

---

GENERAL NOTES

A Winter Flicker.—January 22, 1943 was the coldest day of the winter at Hartford, Conn., in fact, it was the coldest January 22 in the records of the local weather bureau. About noon, a male Northern Flicker (Colaptes auratus luteus) was observed eating meat scraps on a patch of ground from which snow had been cleared in our back yard. Two days later a flat trap was set on the spot and the bird was captured. He proved to be in excellent condition. He now wears band No. 41-305363.—G. HAPGOOD PARKS, 99 Warrenton Ave., Hartford, Connecticut.