ZAMBIA

BIRD BONANZAS 1977 TOUR OF THE YEAR

Our Tour-of-the-Year is known for showing enthusiastic birders great numbers of birds. Our 1976 Tour-of-the-Year to Peru recorded about 775 species of birds. Our tour that visited Africa (including Zambia) in 1976 recorded about 611 species. It is safe to predict that our 1977 tour to Zambia will find more species in a comparable time than any other tour to Africa in 1977.

In addition to birds, mammals are spectacular. In one day in the Luangwa Valley we saw 21 species of mammals. Participants who had birded elsewhere in Africa said that the Luangwa Valley surpassed any other area they had visited for game-viewing. There are also other magnificent natural spectacles, such as the chasms and cataracts of Victoria Falls.

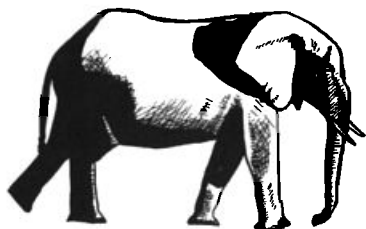

Tour leader, Bob Dowsett, is without doubt the leading field birder in Africa. His team holds the world "Big Day" record — 288 species in a single day. Bob's intimate knowledge of the birds and the country help find not only the common species found on usual tours, but also the rare endemics that make a large tour list and help you build a large world list.

Zambia has advantages over other African countries. It lacks the crowds that have made East African parks resemble a crowded zoo on a Sunday afternoon. In Zambian national parks, unlike those in East Africa, you can get out of your vehicle escorted by game guards. Obviously, this makes an immense difference in how many birds you'll see. Imagine how much less you'd see, if you couldn't get out of the car in your favorite birding spot at home. Finally, we'll offer the flavor of a real African safari, unlike the usual tour, which uses typical tourist hotels and game lodges. You'll spend a number of nights under canvas in real wilderness areas close to the best birding areas without sacrificing any comfort.

In 1977 we also have tours to Venezuela, Southeast Asia, Borneo, Colombia, Costa Rica, India-Nepal, Alaska, Arizona, California, Peru, Dominican Republic, Panama and others. Write for information.

AUDUBON'S LAST WORK

The Quadrapeds
of North America
(1854)

Audubon's Last Masterpiece

The true artist can never rest on past accomplishments. John J. Audubon was surely of this breed.

Just as soon as his monumental Birds of America had been completed, Audubon's boundless love of living things led him to yet another wildlife project of grand scale...the magnificent Quadrapeds of North America.

From 1842 to late 1843, Audubon and his talented son roamed the length and breadth of America in order to capture the image of our native creatures in their natural habitats. A journey that proved to be this remarkable man's last; for he died at the conclusion of the Quadraped project. Leaving a legacy so rich and beautiful that it prompted the famed French naturalist Louis Agassiz to proclaim that the Quadrapeds were without equal in all the world.

The results deserved this praise, for they are truly spectacular. From the smallest meadowmouse to the stately elk, each animal bears the mark of Audubon's unique genius. The lumbering bears, the mischievous otter, the crafty fox and wolf, the sleek cougar, ferocious bobcat, and more. Each appear just as Audubon saw them in a wilderness yet unspoiled by man.

The Quadrapeds of North America are without question an American masterpiece that you should indeed feel proud and privileged to own. The last work of a giant. A most rare opportunity for you to grace your home with an authentic antique of unquestionable pedigree and beauty.

Very Rare Antique Lithographs (Not Reproductions)

Audubon completed the Octavo Quadrapeds in 1854, each image being hand-printed and hand-colored. Each an original first edition lithograph so exacting that the furs shine and the eyes glow as if the very print were alive.

After a long and thorough search, Volair's Archives Collection is now able to offer a limited number of these beautiful hand crafted lithographs to a discriminating public. Each print is an original antique 1854 Audubon Quadraped, not a reproduction.

Each print has been carefully mounted and framed in accordance with rigorous museum standards so that your beautiful investment may be preserved—an investment that can only increase with the passage of time.

Each and every print is of pristine quality and measures 14" x 16" framed.

Each original First Edition Audubon is $110. And the Volair Extended Payment Plan is available for your convenience.

The price includes, of course, all shipping, handling, framing and insurance Everything.

Although Volair's Archive Collection is the largest of its kind in the United States our quantities of these seldom-seen prints are quite low—it is important that you order now to assure satisfaction.

Our offer of Audubon's Quadrapeds is an opportunity for you to own a rare and highly desirable work of art—public trading of these lithographs is virtually coming to an end.

The Documentation and Guarantee

Each Audubon is accompanied by a Certificate of Authenticity bearing the Volair Seal, and each Certificate is issued in the name of the subscriber. Authenticity is fully guaranteed forever by Volair. Remember these are not reproductions, but rather, original antique 1854 lithographs by J. J. Audubon. The Volair 90-Day Unconditional Guarantee is available should you not be completely satisfied or if you wish to exchange your print for another—and that's a promise.

Please remember that the number of these exciting prints is very limited—to ensure your preference and to avoid disappointment, order now.

SUBSCRIPTION APPLICATION
