When you can't choose one city over the other, and each has special birding locations, the best choice is to incorporate them both! Vancouver Island, with British Columbia's capital in Victoria, offers the Eurasian Skylark as its prize, plus rocky coast specialties and opportunities for great sea birds. On the mainland, the beautiful city of Vancouver, home of the 2010 Winter Olympics, holds the diversity of habitats—from mountains to marsh, sea to shore. And what better way to link the two cities than with a hands-on workshop on pelagic birds while enjoying the ferry crossing through Active Pass. The scenery is exquisite with many Kodak moments along the 90-minute journey. Whales are a possibility, as well as dolphins, sea lions, and lots of birds. This conference is extended in order to incorporate both Victoria and Vancouver, a 7-night package, with 6 full days of birding! Full-week tour package for non-birding companions. Space will be limited, so sign up early!

Audubon's VideoGuide to Butterflies Common and Endangered contains extremely rare, never before seen moving footage of 21 of the 22 U.S. endangered and threatened butterflies—the lone exception, the Lotis Blue, has not been seen by anyone in its Northern California habitat since 1994 and may be extinct—and tells the stories of how they came to be at risk.

This companion to the classic Audubon Society's VideoGuide to 505 Birds of North America. is also the first field video guide to common North American butterflies, the kind found in backyards across the continent. It features beautiful video, range maps, and informative narration about more than 70 common butterflies in their native habitat.

The VideoGuide was written by Dr. Paul Opler, author of the Peterson Field Guides to Eastern and Western Butterflies, and Jim Ebner, director of Audubon Butterfly Essentials for Beginners and Gardeners.
