

Notes on Rhode Island Ornithology

A quarterly publication for the purpose of furthering interest in ornithology in this State.

REGINALD HEBER HOWE, JR., EDITOR.

PUBLICATION OFFICE—LONGWOOD, BROOKLINE, MASS.

SUBSCRIPTION SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS A YEAR.

I HAVE A COLLECTION OF Mounted Birds and Animals for Sale

About 300 specimens. Some rare. All North American. Three good Glass Cases and Deer
Head go with collection. Collectors can afford to investigate.

A. CATTELL 709 TEMPLE CHICAGO

The Egg Collector

Oological Quarterly

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 PER ANNUM

This magazine will contain some forty odd pages of fresh readable matter well illustrated with photographs by leading ornithologists. Its aim is to be to all oologists what the Auk is to all ornithologists. Its financial backing is firm and it will come to stay. It is official exponent of "The Oologists' Association," which organization is growing astonishingly recently and will hold its initial meeting in Washington next fall. All oologists are invited to aid in strengthening this scheme of strong organization and effective work. To have a body of oologists as strong as the A. O. U. body of ornithologists; to have a magazine of oology as strong as the Auk is of ornithology, is our aim. Help us do this. Send subscriptions and applications to:

JOHN W. DANIEL, Jr.

Secretary-Treasurer Oologists' Association
Editor-in-chief "Egg Collector"

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA