

by the United States Section of The International Council for Bird Preservation is devoted primarily to a series of papers on raptors. The principal articles are: "Restoration of the Peregrine Falcon in the Eastern United States" by John H. Barclay and Tom J. Cade; "The Bald Eagle in the Northern United States" by James W. Grier et al.; "California Condor Reproduction, Past and Present" by Noel F. R. Snyder; and "The California Condor Recovery Program: An Overview" by John C. Ogden. There is a series of short papers on a variety of timely conservation matters, and a review of bird conservation literature listing 162 titles. This promises to be a very informative series filling an unoccupied niche.—

NAME THAT DUCK. By Steven M. Cohen and Timothy Nowicki. Illus. by Timothy Nowicki. Name That Bird, 26349 Dundee Road, Huntington Woods, Michigan. 8 pp. field card, 108 black-and-white drawings. $1.95 + $0.25 postage.—The authors have devised a simple key for waterfowl identification based on the amount and location of white in the plumage. There is no text but the somewhat diagrammatic figures should enable the novice bird watcher or the sportsman to identify the ducks he sees on the water.—G.A.H.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

The Wilson Bulletin publishes significant research and review articles in the field of ornithology. Manuscripts are accepted for review with the understanding that the same or similar work has not been and will not be published nor is presently submitted elsewhere, that all persons listed as authors have given their approval for submission of the ms, and that any person cited as a personal communication has approved such citation. All mss should be submitted directly to the Editor.

Text.—Manuscripts should be prepared carefully in the format of recent issues of The Wilson Bulletin. Mss will be returned without review if they are not properly prepared. They should be neatly typed, double-spaced throughout (including tables, figure legends and "Literature Cited"), with at least 3 cm margins all around, and on one side of good quality paper. Do not use erasable bond. Mss typed on dot-matrix printers are not acceptable. The ms should include a cover sheet (unnumbered) with the following: (1) Title, (2) Authors, their institutions, and addresses, (3) Name, address, and phone number of author to receive proof, (4) A brief title for use as a running head. All pages of the text through the "Literature Cited" should be numbered, and the name of the author should appear in the upper right-hand corner of each. The text should begin in the middle of the first numbered page. Three copies should be submitted. Xerographic copies are acceptable if they are clearly readable and on good quality paper. Copies on heavy, slick paper, as used in some copy machines, are not acceptable.

Tables.—Tables are expensive to print and should be prepared only if they are necessary. Do not repeat material in the text in tables. Tables should be narrow and deep rather than wide and shallow. Double space all entries in tables, including titles. Do not use vertical rules. Use tables in a recent issue of the Bulletin as examples of style and format. Tables should be typed on separate unnumbered pages and placed at the end of the ms.

Figures.—Illustrations must be readable (particularly lettering) when reduced in size. Final size will usually be 11.4 cm wide. Illustrations larger than 22 × 28 cm will not be accepted, and should be reduced photographically before submission. Legends for all figures should be typed on a separate page. Photographs should be clear, of good contrast, and on glossy paper. Drawings should be in India ink on good drawing board, drafting paper, or blue-lined graph paper. All lettering should be done with a lettering instrument or adhesive transfers. Do not use typewriter or computer lettering. Designate the top of each illustration and label (on the back in soft pencil) with author's name, ms title, and figure number. Submit two duplicates or readable xerographic copies of each figure as well as the original or high-contrast glossy photo of the original.

Style and format.—Recent issues of The Wilson Bulletin should be used as a guide for preparing your ms; all mss must be submitted in that format. For general matters of style authors should consult the "CBE Style Manual," 5th ed., Council of Biology Editors, Inc., Bethesda, MD, 1983. Do not use footnotes or more than two levels of subject subheadings. Except in rare circumstances major papers should be followed by a summary, not to exceed 10% of the length of the ms. Summaries should be informative rather than indicative, and should be capable of standing by themselves. Most units should be metric, and compound units should be in one-line form (i.e., $\text{cm}\cdot\text{sec}^{-2}$). The continental system of dating (19 Jan. 1950) and the 24 hour clock (09:00, 22:00) should be used.

References.—In major papers, if more than five references are cited, they should be included in a terminal "Literature Cited" section. Include only references cited in the ms, and only material available in the open literature ("In-house" reports and the like should not be cited). Use recent issues of the Bulletin for style, and the most recent issue of "BIOSIS," BioSciences Information Service, Philadelphia, PA, for abbreviations of periodical names. If in doubt, do not abbreviate serial names. All references in "General Notes," as well as those in major papers with fewer than five references, should be cited internally, e.g., (James, Wilson Bull. 83:215:236, 1971) or James (Wilson Bull. 83:215–236, 1971).

Nomenclature.—Common names and technical names of birds should be those given in the 1983 A.O.U. Check-list (and supplements as may appear) unless justification is given. For bird species in South America not occurring in the area covered by the A.O.U. check-list (1983, 6th ed.) the Bulletin uses the common names appearing in Meyer de Schauensee "The Species of Birds of South America," 1966. Proper common names of birds should be capitalized.

The Editor welcomes queries concerning style and format during your preparation of mss for submission to the Bulletin. KEITH BILDSTEIN, EDITOR-ELECT.
